CASA's Campaign for King's Ridge recognizes M/I Homes Inc. for their gift to support permanent, supportive housing in Raleigh.

(RALEIGH, NC) – CASA is pleased to announce a $120,000 gift from M/I Homes Inc. to develop King's Ridge, a permanent supportive housing community for people and families moving out of homelessness in Wake County.

King's Ridge will provide apartments for 100 households, serving both individuals and families. The property's main floor will include community space, offices, and access to wrap around services like case management and integrated primary and mental healthcare. The site is well located minutes from downtown Raleigh with a public bus stop across the street.

King's Ridge will focus on housing those earning 30% of the Area Median Income (AMI) or less, who are chronically homeless and are living with a disability.

"We make it our mission to provide affordable housing to those who are most vulnerable in our community," says Everett McElveen, CASA CEO. "King's Ridge will remove those barriers that many people face when trying to find a home. We are so grateful that M/I Homes Inc. can support our mission and aid us in our fight against homelessness.

"It is so exciting to be part of such a meaningful project as King's Ridge," says Allison Moriarty, VP Sales & Marketing for M/I Homes. "It is only by the generosity of our trade partners that this donation was possible. We look forward to watching the building progress and families having a place to call home."

King's Ridge is modeled after successful permanent, supportive housing models across the county like Moore Place in Charlotte, a 120-unit apartment community providing a home and supportive services to Charlotte's lowest income population.
